

DO TRY THIS AT HOME

issue #13

Featuring: Marvin and Milo

What you need:

- A television (turned on)
- A rubber band

Watch this!

Stretch the rubber band between your thumb and first finger.

Holding the band between you and the television screen, pluck one side.

The television picture is made up of tiny dots flashing on and off. It acts like a strobe light, freezing the bands' vibrations at different positions so it looks like it's moving in slow motion.
